

Cheeky little Q
Always chases after U

all

A says or in all
As it does in ball
So we put two els after the A
And all is what we say

are

Are is a word with letters three Number one is A as you can see
R is in the middle followed by E
And those are the letters three

blue

To colour it blue this is what you do
Paint with B and L and U
Finish with a tiny little E That's how easy blue can be come

Come is a word that's a little bit tricky
It has a silent E that muddles me
It looks like kommee but we have to say kum
It's one of those words that's a pain in the ...(tum?)

eat

E chases A and crashes into T
They all sit down and eat their tea

embarrass

Me thinks I be an ass
To forget
Double r and s for embarrass

fall

We must not falter we must not fall
We must spell it the same as all
With an F before
And letters four

four

If I take out the O I have fur
Break it in half, I have 'fo' and 'ur'
When I put it back together
'Tis a word for a number

her

He gave her the letter R

here

He said to R; stand next to me
But R said; E comes with me
So R and E stood next to he Standing in a row to make it clear
H and E and R and E all are here

new

I can spell new
What about you
Starts with N everybody knows Then E and W, that's how it goes

once

Why once starts with an O
I really don't know En comes next
and that makes sense
But C doesn't sound like itself at all
And silent E
drives me up the wall

put

Putt said I with glee
When I looked at the word P U T
No, no, said the teacher respectfully
Not putt but put, don't you see?

said

I want to spell said
Get it straight in my head
There's an S at the start and a D at the end
And there are two vowels between them
But what can they be
I know it's not an E
Oh, it's an A and an I
But I don't know why!

says

We spell it with an s and an s
And the rest we can guess
The middle bit looks like A
Even though sez is what we say

two

I don't have a clue
Who put the w in two
When I leave it out
I hear the teacher shout

When we say who W doesn't say boo
it stands before ho
But I wish it wasn't so

why

Why spell 'why' with an aitch?
When I asked all my mates
Nobody knew and that's no lie
I dare not ask why
we spell why with a Y

you

Add a U to yo
And hey presto
That's you
How do you do?
